

Liberating the Curriculum

A Free Event with lunch included

1 June 2012

09:00-16:00

at

Scotland's Colleges,
Stirling

Come together with students and staff from colleges and universities across Scotland to share ideas about getting sustainability issues embedded in the curriculum.

With workshops from students and practitioners already 'greening' learning and teaching in their institution as well as a chance to share ideas and action-plan.

Sessions will include:

- working with course reps
- student participation
- greening college courses
- The Regional Centre of Expertise.

This event is supporting EAUC's Education for Sustainable Development Topic Support Network series.

For more information and to book a place please visit: <http://bit.ly/liberatingcurriculum>